

CASE STUDY:

£1m cost savings and stabilised cash flow position for food manufacturer

Overview

The company is a long established, brand-leading ready-mix dessert producer. Due to an unexpected change in leadership, a General Manager was appointed from within to oversee the manufacturing transition and business operations. It became apparent that there was a lack of controls and financial awareness which had the potential to hinder progress.

Challenges

- Incomplete accounting records.
- Lack of internal controls and reporting analysis.
- Lack of cash flow awareness and forecasting.
- No budgetary controls or forecasting of production requirements.
- Finance team had little understanding of the need to manage stakeholders.
- Little to no cost control.

“ Our Headstar Portfolio FD began working with us when the company was in a period of uncertainty. Their calm, structured and process driven approach has created a framework for the team to push the business forward in a positive way. They supported the business technically, and coached and mentored the team too.

General Manager

Our Approach

Initially appointed for a 10-week project to review the finance team structure and business operations, Headstar's Portfolio Finance Director (FD) quickly established a good working relationship with the UK Management Team to develop the following solutions:

- Identified areas of risk to stabilise the financial position.
- Improved financial control through robust systems and processes.
- Created accurate management information and reporting mechanisms.
- Used financial evidence to challenge the original transition plan.
- Worked with the team to strategically plan an 18-month start to end transition project.
- Helped create a finance culture that is streamlined and consistent across all of its operations.

Results
